

Was ist aus Ihrem „Ersten Haus“ geworden?

> Es steht noch an derselben Stelle, ist Teil der Stadt geworden und hat doch viel für mich bewegt. Es ist meine begehbare Visitenkarte.

> Sadly, about the time that the Katrina Hurricane hit the region, my family decided they had to sell the property that the house sits on. We are in the process of moving the house to a friend of the family's land, thus we're able to save it. But nonetheless, it has been a painful experience for me. So, the tragic events of the Hurricane in New Orleans have become one in my mind with the loss of the house.

> Es ist umgezogen, aber es geht weiterhin um Beständigkeit, Bestand, Standfestigkeit und Standhaftigkeit. Das Büro formuliert die konservativen Bedürfnisse des Wohnens, ohne formal eine konservative Sprache zu deklinieren.

> My office is still going strong. I still operate as the sole employee, and I absolutely love it. My wife received a teaching appointment at Stanford University in Palo Alto, California, so I've relocated my office from New York City to California. My projects continue to be sprinkled across the U.S., so my basic practice model hasn't changed substantially. We had a baby about exactly a year ago. It has been a joy and a pleasant surprise at how little it's changed my office.

Despite the early success of my Zachary House that won the Bauwelt Prize and allowed me to enter private practice, I still consider my office very much in a gestational phase. That is, I anticipate entering into the limelight of the architectural arena only as soon as ten or twenty years from now.

Was ist aus Ihrem Büro geworden?

> Zurzeit habe ich eine Assistentenstelle an der RWTH in Aachen, nebenbei bearbeite ich in meinem Ein-Mann-Büro kleinere Umbauprojekte und hin und wieder einen Wettbewerb mit Freunden.
